

Household income is an exceptionally strong predictor of health spending at a national level

source: OECD 2014 data PPP for Actual Individual Consumption